Golden Wedding.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WINCHESTER, VA., January 17.—Mr., and Mrs. J. E. Copp. of "Williow Brook," near Kernstown, this county, to-day celebrated their golden wedding. All of their children, many grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren were present, and the occasion was a very happy one. Mr. Copp is one of the wealthlest land owners in this county, his native home, for years, but came to this county some time since at the request of his wife, who was a Miss Glaize, and whose people resided here. They are the parents of six children. Rev. G. A. Copp, of Fisher's Hill, Va.; Mrs. Fannie Spiggle, of Shenandoah county; Rov. Zed. H. Copp. of Washington; Mrs. Johanna Hockman, of Kernstown, this county; and Mrs. Ada Frenkel and Mrs. Olive Baker, of this city.

I desire to state on behalf of the temperary management that it was a pleasure, out of deference to the Jamestown Exposition, to be held in 1907, to decide the postponement of the Alaska-Yukon Exposition until 1903, this although part preparation had been made for the holding of same in 1907.

I desire in this connection also to state that your exposition is looked upon with a great deal of favor by the citizens of this State, and that it was partly through the good offices on your behalf of the two organizations of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution in this city that the management was influenced in their decision to postpone the Alaska Pair.

We trust that your very commendable undertaking will attract a vast number of our fellow-cityers it broughout the
